1. Тема (проблема) Jeanne de Brion is a jewellery company in Boston. USA. A year ago. it launched a line of jewellery with the brand name 'Cecile'. This is the name of the French designer who created the collection. Unfortunately. the Cecile line has not achieved its sales targets. Three directors of the company meet to discuss how to improve sales.

2. Концепция Role-play this situation.

3. Роли (ролевые группы)

Student A In your opinion, the Cecile products have sales potential, but the marketing strategy is wrong. You want:

- a new brand name_ 'Cecile' does not suit this beautiful jewellery for sophisticated women.
- a new logo. The present logo (three wavy lines) is boring.
- a much wider range of products and designs -at present there are only five in the collection.
- a better slogan. 'Only for you' has not been successful.
- more colours.

Student B In your opinion, the product is the problem. The jewellery is fairly fashionable, but not a lot different from competing products. You want to:

- take the Cecile range out of the market and stop selling it.
- develop new jewellery which fills a gap in the market and which has an obvious USP (unique selling point).
- invest more money in research for new jewellery products.
- carefully study rival products to find out why they are so successful.
- market more unusual designs from young Asian and Indian designers.

Student C In your opinion, the Cecile line has a lot of sales potential. You think the products and brand name are excellent. However, you believe the products are not promoted in the right way and not sold in places which reflect the high status of the jewellery. You want:

- to pay a famous film star to endorse the jewellery and wear it as often as possible.
- to spend a lot of money on a creative television commercial to advertise the jewellery.
- to sell the jewellery only in a limited number of high-class jewellery and department stores and at airports.
- to have a new slogan which reflects the upmarket status of the jewellery. o a top designer to create a new range of jewellery which can be sold under the Cecile brand. You think the present range is too limited.

2. Концепция Role-play this situation.

3. Роли (ролевые группы)

1 Performance-related pay Following changes to the bonus system, sales staff in stores now receive monthly bonuses according to their individual sales. Unfortunately, while the new system is popular with staff, it has led to many complaints from customers about sales staff 'fighting' over customers in order to secure sales and therefore bonuses. Is the system making staff too competitive?	4 Carbon footprint In line with its philosophy as a 'green' company, it has been suggested that Young Scene should be reducing its carbon footprint, meaning that air travel should be kept to a minimum. Buyers and managers would in future travel by train within Europe. Outside Europe, they would use economy class or budget air travel only. Is this practical or indeed desirable?
2 Stock control Managers at many outlets are reporting problems with the system of organising and finding items for customers in the stock rooms. This is causing delays and causing frustration for both staff and customers. The main question seems to be how to organise the stock – by size, by style or by colour?	5 End of clothing allowance Sales staff in stores currently receive a clothing allowance, which takes the form of a 50% discount on Young Scene clothes, which staff then must wear at work. One suggestion is to cut this to 10%, or stop this completely and introduce a compulsory company uniform.
3 Shoplifting Following a recent increase in shoplifting, Young Scene now employs security guards in all its stores. There has been a number of complaints from customers that they find the guards intimidating. This is starting to affect sales, although shoplifting itself is also down. What can be done about this issue?	6 Staff meetings The current practice is to open all stores two hours later one day a week in order for the store manager to hold a meeting with all staff. It has been suggested that this meeting be held after hours in future to maximise opening hours.

- a new brand name_ 'Cecile' does not suit this beautiful jewellery for sophisticated women.
- a new logo. The present logo (three wavy lines) is boring.
- a much wider range of products and designs -at present there are only five in the collection.
- a better slogan. 'Only for you' has not been successful.
- more colours.

Student B In your opinion, the product is the problem. The jewellery is fairly fashionable, but not a lot different from competing products. You want to:

- o take the Cecile range out of the market and stop selling it.
- o develop new jewellery which fills a gap in the market and which has an obvious USP (unique selling point).
- o invest more money in research for new jewellery products.
- o carefully study rival products to find out why they are so successful.
- o market more unusual designs from young Asian and Indian designers.

Student C In your opinion, the Cecile line has a lot of sales potential. You think the products and brand name are excellent. However, you believe the products are not promoted in the right way and not sold in places which reflect the high status of the jewellery. You want:

- o to pay a famous film star to endorse the jewellery and wear it as often as possible.
- o to spend a lot of money on a creative television commercial to advertise the jewellery.
- o to sell the jewellery only in a limited number of high-class jewellery and department stores and at airports.
- o to have a new slogan which reflects the upmarket status of the jewellery.
- o a top designer to create a new range of jewellery which can be sold under the Cecile brand.

You think the present range is too limited.

Message on sensitive e-mails is not getting through

When new employees start at Goldman Sachs, one of the first things they are told is that they should not put anything in an e-mail that they wouldn't want to read in the _____<sup>34</sup>. Don't complain about colleagues. Don't discuss sensitive deals. Don't say bad things about the competition. If you want to do those things, they are told, use the phone or talk to someone in person.

The same _____<sup>35</sup> has been repeated across the corporate world for years, but the message never seems to get through. Sensitive e-mails and instant messages continue to turn up in public.

It seems that no matter how often they are told, employees continue to see workplace emails as casual, private exchanges that no one else will read. The ePolicy Institute, which conducts research and advises companies, recently carried out a survey of 416 companies. The survey showed that only 42 per cent of companies conduct any formal training regarding e-mail usage. Instead, they rely on written policies that are often not read.

Simply telling workers to be more careful is not enough. Some companies are now using advanced software that can block potentially embarrassing messages from leaving a corporate system.

Proofpoint, an electronic security company, offers software that monitors _____<sup>36</sup> as they arrive and depart to detect potentially dangerous words or phrases. Keith Crosley, Director of Market Development for Proofpoint, says heavily regulated _____<sup>37</sup>, such as financial services and health care, are among his company's best customers. Kawasaki Motors uses the software to make sure no one leaks its motorcycle designs. The software ensures that personal data such as credit-card numbers and medical histories are encrypted and monitors the disclosure of confidential corporate _____<sup>38</sup>.

'Our systems can be trained,' Mr Crosley says. 'You can show it examples – "Here are my new car designs. Here is my internal phone list" – and not let those messages go out.' The problem is that the software can occasionally block important e-mails that are not sensitive. 'Customers are not very tolerant of that problem,' Mr Crosley says.

Course in Business English at (name of institution)

Dates: from ... to...

The course consisted of three hours of English each week. The lessons were on Monday and Wednesday and lasted 90 minutes. There were ten people in our group, and we were all the same level. The lessons were very lively and interesting.

We used an excellent coursebook, which had many interesting topics, for example: jobs, companies, marketing, management and so on. We read articles about business and we listened to interviews with real business people. This was very good for learning new vocabulary.

We did a lot of useful exercises which helped us to improve our skills, for example, giving presentations, meetings, negotiating and socialising. I especially enjoyed the case studies and role-plays.

This was a very useful and enjoyable course and I can recommend it to other employees.
